

Passion India By Javier Moro

Full Circle, October 2006

'Passion India' by Javier Moro is an intriguing tale of a seventeen-year-old Spanish girl, Anita Delgado, who gets married to the wealthy Maharaja of Kapurthala.

Well-researched and slickly documented, it makes for an interesting read as the author captures the saga marked by love and betrayal. Published under the aegis of Full Circle publishing, it juxtaposes the fragrances and hues of India besides throwing light on harems, erogenous soirees and the royalty's penchant for jewellery, palaces, flamenco, horses, Rolls Royces and hunting sprees.
